

Georgia Motor Trucking Association and NATMI present Hazardous Materials Training

Hazmat compliance training that meets DOT recurrent training requirements

Atlanta, GA ♦ April 14-15, 2010

Course Description:

Hazardous Materials Training is a 2-day seminar which centers on regulatory training. The unique, function-specific format provides greater understanding and better retention. The seminar helps fulfill the 49 CFR Part 172 Subpart H recurrent training requirements.

Course Benefits:

Through this course, you'll learn to:

- use the hazmat table and identify hazmat classes;
- mark bulk and non-bulk packaging and packages;
- label and placard and prepare shipping papers;
- properly load and unload vehicles; and
- prepare your drivers for a roadside inspection.

Who should attend? Anyone involved in hazardous materials preparation and transportation, including:

- ⇒ Fleet safety professionals
- ⇒ Drivers
- ⇒ Dockworkers
- ⇒ Billing clerks

Every employee involved in shipping, transporting or handling hazardous materials should receive training. The training must be updated whenever there is a regulation change affecting an employee's job tasks. Hazardous materials training must be repeated at least every 36 months.
